Special Guests to Attend NOW Event

The San Fernando Valley/Northeast Los Angeles Chapter of the National Organization for Women will hold its annual holiday party and election meeting on Saturday, December 13, 2003 at 12:00 noon at 17503 Rancho Street (corner of Encino Ave) in Encino, with participation from guest speakers, candidates and elected officials.

The keynote speaker will be Anthony Russo, who along with Daniel Ellsberg was one of the key figures in the release of "The Pentagon Papers" which exposed government cover-ups in the conduct of the Vietnam War. He will speak on the history of government duplicity and bring it up to date with commentary on the ongoing U.S. military involvement in Iraq.

Barring legislative emergencies due to the continuing California state fiscal crisis, Assembly Member Lloyd Levine (D-40th District) is scheduled to attend the event from 12-1:00 p.m.

Candidate Denise Moehlman will also attend the event and address the issues in the race for Los Angeles County District Attorney. Moehlman, a deputy district attorney, is a member of the National Organization for Women.

The event is potluck. For further information, call 818.769.2035.
